

Hi there! I hope you're doing well.

I'm sorry if this Message sabotaged the "inbox zero" goal for you. I'm reaching out today in search for the next project to be excited about.

I am the passionate developer you're looking for: with experience accumulated since 2001 in domains like logistics, Stock Exchange market, finance and administration, GPS tracking and fleet management, custom borders scanning.

Immediately available.

Please consider my resume.

Looking for a remote job (to cut off the traffic time) - I have the required discipline (over 4.5 continuous years of remote work in the past).

I live in Bucharest, Romania (Europe) with my family (wife and 10 years old son) - can travel, but I'm not ready to relocate.

Before dismiss this application, please take the time to read about telecommuting - it may open an opportunity for you:

- The Pros & Cons of Being a Remote Team \(The Employer's Perspective\)
- Benefits of remote work
- The 10 Biggest Misconceptions About Remote Work

Good or bad, I'd love to hear from you.

Best regards,

Sorin

Phone: 0040747020102

Email: mecumihaisorin@gmail.com

PS. If I got your attention about the remote positions, click on the link to see a guide that works